

It Takes a Village to Raise a Healthcare Professional.

This is a free youth empowerment event designed to leave students feeling encouraged and confident about pursuing careers in healthcare. The event topic will be on maternal and infant health. Registration is required. Scan the QR code below.

Saturday, Sept. 30, 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Albert H. Anderson Center
Winston-Salem State University

Event details

- It Takes a Village is a collaborative partnership event between Winston-Salem State University and Novant Health.
- The program is designed to encourage and empower students of color to pursue careers in healthcare, nursing and medicine.
- Students and their parents will have the opportunity to listen to guest speakers and panel discussions, tour community health cruisers, experience virtual and augmented reality in medicine, ask questions of current doctors and medical students, and much more.
- All adults accompanying kids will have the opportunity to participate in health screenings.
- Lunch will be provided.